ROOSEVELT AFTER CROKER.

Considers Him, and Not Van Wyck, His Opponent.

New York, Nov. 2.—Theodore Roose-Long Islanders today before the busisess men of the city had finished their residents and by noon he had adirected audiences at ten or more stations along the line of the Long Island altroad. His principal topic was Richerd Croker, who last night attacked and Croker, who last night attacked Colonel Rooseveit's administration of the pelice department during the majorally of Mr. Strong. At South-sangton, for example, Colonel Rooseveit said that if the Democratic ticket was elected in the state it meant that every store-keeper in the state would be laid under tribute of Tammany Rail. "Termmany," he said, "already blackmails vice and collects tribute for mails vice and collects tribute from those who thrive on vice, but it is now beginning to levy tribute on honesty, where honesty is holpless, and if you elect Tammany you will assist in that uppration."

At Flushing the hall was jammed-to At Fusions the hall was jammed to the doors and Colonel Rocsevel re-ceived an ovnition. Celonel Rocsevel, began his speech by assecting that his real opponent was Mr. Croker, and not Van Wyck, and then proceeded to reply to the former's attack upon his admin-istration of the police department. Colonel Rocsevelt said, in part: "He stracks my administration of the po-lice department. I should be seen situacks my administration of the p fice department. I should be sorry if deed if a had merited his praise. I Croker invoked the testiment of Twe agrans: Judge Daly and now he him self testifies against me. Well, he may He suys, in effect, that under my ad-

He says, in effect, that under my administration crime went unpunshed. That statement is simply untrue."

In conclusion, Colonel Roosevelt said, 2Mr. Croker is striving to render the judges his equally servile tools. He has the mayor; he wishes the governor. If the police force and the judiciary, the executive at Albany, and the executive at Albany, and the executive in New York, all become his supple-kneed servants, his power will be supressed and we will have no single way of making effective protest against any extreme of corruption or lawless-mass."

An Attacking Column, Thus Indicating to Spaniards Location of Troops-No Effort to Clean Filthy Siboney Before Fever Broke Out.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The war investigating commission held a session here to day for the purpose of hearing the testimony of Major Hnry Romeyne, a retired army officer. He said that he had asked at the beginning of the war for a military assignment to go to the front in his capacity as an officer, but it was refused and be then went as a correspondent of a weekly newspaper. His testimony towered the memoration of the capacity as an officer, but it was refused and be then went as a correspondent of a weekly newspaper. His testimony towered the memoration of the capacity and a report Tamps and the went to Port Tamps and the went to Port Tamps and the went to Port Tamps and the capacity and the capacity with troops. He had wanted to go over with the Fenth infantry, which was his old regiment, but no one could lied him where the regiment was to be found. He asked a staff officer and several others for this information, but nonknew nor did anyone appear to know on what vessel any particular troops were to embark. There was great confusion, as a consequence of which a part of a regiment would go on one vessel and a part on another, and the regiments were thus separated, from their stores. He had seen no order for the systematic embarkation of the troops, and he had heard it said that they were told to go aboard helter-akelter. When asked to express an opinion as to the preparation for the embarkation, the witness hesitated, saying that to do so would involve criticism of his superiors. The commissioners insinted upon a reply and Mr. Romeyne replicitiat he did not think the preparation were such as they should have been.

"There was," he said, "a lack of surf boats and also of order and of preparation.

LACK OF ORDER.

"There was," he said, "a lack of surf boats and also of order and of preparation for landing. When he hadding was at the landing was the landing was the landing was the landing was sufficient to the landing was the landing was the landing was the landing was land other parts at other times."

He told of the efforts to tow two lighters over to Cuba, but said that one was lost and that it was the general impression that it was lost on purpose because it retarded the progress of the fleet. In response to a question from General MecCook, Major Romeyne said that while it was difficult to land anything, ambulances and wagons could have been landed as easily as the artillery.

He had seen only one ambulance at the front at the lattice of El Caney and, it was not used for conveying the wounded to the rear. Speaking of other incidents of the battle, he said there was general surprise that an indeed the attacking column, thus indicating to the Spaniards the exact locality of the troops, but is did not know at whose orders this had been done.

London, Nov. 2.—The dispatch from Wei-Hai-Wei announcing the war Wei-Hai-Wei announcing the war preparations, officials here announce as grave, coupled with the Anglo-French war preparations. It is surmised that Russia. profiting by the present strained relations between Great Britain and France, has decided to push forward her alms in the far east by forcibly seining the valuable treaty port of Niu Chuang, which Great Britain cannot permit, it is said.

A dispatch from London to the Associated Press on Oct. 20, said a cable message had been received there from Shanghal as follows:

"A Russian regiment occupies the town of Niu Chuang (province of Leo Tong), and the forts at the mouth of the River Liaou, on Oct. 15, thus securing complete possession of Niu Chuang. The native troops fied without making any opposition, under orders from the empress dowager and Li Hung Chang, A British giuboat was in the river at the time."

Its non-resistance is regarded as the virtual British abandomment of Manchuria to the Russians, and gives Russia an invaluable strategic point. Great Britain is certain to lose the Niu Chuang trade, of which it has shout 50 per cent. preparations, officials here announce as

ALGER'S PROTECTION.

Nothing is more farcical than the announcements so frequently made by Secretary Alger that the "fullest protection" will be accorded to every man who desires to tell the truth about the management of the war, and the secretary has even gone so far as to give his "personal guarantee"—whatever that may mean—that no officer or man shall be discriminated against in the slightest degree because of any evidence he may supply to the commission. Experienced army officers smile at all these assurances. They are fumiliar with bureaucraite methods, and they know that the regular army officer who furnishes any evidence against his superiors is not likely to soon hear the end of the matter. Secretary Alger's "guarantee" may be good for a year or two, but regular army officers are in the savyles for life. The man who testifies against Alger's aides, and long after the present secretary of war has been relegated to private life his aides will be running things in the war department. Shrewd observers here know that while secretaries of war may come and go, the Corbins, the Sternbergs, the Ludingtons, et al. like Tennyson's brook, go on forever. No one here is surprised that the investigation commission has discovered nothing. Much, surprise would have been feit had it unsarthed anything at all.
